This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Mr. Pilgrim, on taking the chair, addressed the members follows:

Fellow Members of the One Hundred and Fortieth Legislatur

For this honorable and distinguished preferment I earnest and unreservedly give thanks to all.

This House of Assembly, one of the co-ordinate branch of the New Jersey State government, has a long and notab history. It had its first sitting at Princeton, from August 27 to October 8th, 1776, a few months after the adoption of our fi Constitution, and the Declaration of Independence by the C tinental Congress.

We all take just pride in being chosen to sit in this bo tracing its lineage through the centuries to the English Ho of Commons, which began to develop at the opening of the re of Edward III. But we deeply feel the responsibility of membership; for we know that this branch of government es lished throughout our country is intended to voice and pr the popular rights of citizens.

Your Speaker, then, approaches the task set before him, only with high estimation of the station to which he has called, but with a solemn realization of the responsibility about to undertake. These feelings are not lightened, whe recall a few of the men who have held this position. They Jonathan Dayton, Lucius Q. C. Elmer, Edward W. Whel Leon Abbett, John D. Prince, James J. Bergen, Thoma McCran and our friend and co-laborer, Honorable Carlton frey, a member of this present Assembly.

It is interesting to note that the county of Essex has favored with this office, during the history of our State, si times, the first time in 1778, with selection of Caleb Cam last time in 1907, when Edgar E. Lethbridge was chosen.

We do not conceive it is our duty to do more than poi to this body a few prominent points to guide it in its a Under our constitution it is not only the duty, but the prero of our Governor to communicate by message to the Legislature at its opening, or at other times, the condition of the State, and to recommend measures deemed expedient.

We should bear in mind that we are to protect the public from ill-advised proposals, and should further all good ones.

We should make haste slowly. An English essayist has said: "Every thinking person is well aware that the enormous loss of time caused by the friction of our legislative machinery has preserved the country from a great deal of crude and ill-digested legislation." So, while we desire promptness and efficiency, they must not be had at the sacrifice of due deliberation.

We should not endeavor to pass a large number of measures. The public does not desire so much new law. This opinion should be respected.

Let us keep legislation confined to its proper objects of concern. Individual industry and corporate enterprise should be encouraged, not discouraged. The State should invite, not repel, investment. The prosperity and welfare of the whole State demand our intelligent and conscientious regard.

May I respectfully request the members to introduce their bills early in the session, and may I express the further hope that resolutions limiting the time for the introduction of bills, and fixing the day of adjournment, will be passed at an early sitting.

To you, my fellow members, is now committed the task of operating this branch of our representative government, in one of the oldest, richest and most populous States of our great and wonderful republic. Surely our pride, our zeal and our conscience will stimulate and hold us to the best efforts.

The Speaker announced the appointment of W. Stanley Naughright as his secretary, and Roger E. Salmon as his assistant secretary.

Mr. Kates offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That the House now proceed with the election of Clerk of the House.

Mr. Garfield Pancoast, of Camden county, placed in nomination Mr. Upton S. Jefferys, of the same county, for Clerk of the House, the nomination being seconded by Mr. James Hammond, of Mercer county.

Mr. Thomas G. Gannon, of Hudson county, placed in nomination Mr. Joseph P. Mulligan, of the same county, for Clerk of the House, the nomination being seconded by Mr. Joseph Carroll of the same county.

Upon the roll being called by the Assistant Clerk, Mr. Jeffery was elected by the following vote:

For Mr. Jefferys—

Buehler, Conrad, Crosby, Dadley, Dalrymple, DeCam

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, as follows:

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, January 11, 1916.

Gentlemen of the Senate and General Assembly:

It gives me considerable satisfaction to be able to inform you that the financial condition of the State is better than for several years. At the opening of the preceding session of the Legislature, a State tax or a bond issue was thought imperative to raise the money required to meet the appropriations for State Departments and institutions for the fiscal year November 1, 1914, to October 31, 1915, but it later became apparent that the direct inheritance tax act of 1914 would provide the necessary funds. The fact is, that while no additional revenue was provided by the Legislature of last year, upward of two million dollars were added to the State's income by the act referred to. The requisition act of 1914 also helped, in that it gave the State's financial officers a proper supervision and control over all expenditures of money and provided a much-needed check against the prevalent practice of incurring obligations in excess of appropriations. The latter act also made it possible for the Comptroller to keep account not only of disbursements, but also of the State's contractual obligations, so that for the first time within my recollection of State affairs, the statement of our financial condition a the close of a fiscal year, included among the liabilities all item for which the State was bound on uncompleted contracts, an the statement to November 1, 1915, therefore shows exactl where we stand. The reports which the Comptroller and Trea urer will present to you show that at the close of our busine year, October 31, 1915, with every outstanding obligation pr vided for and deducted, we had an actual and not a fictitio balance in the treasury amounting to $305,421.01. This balanc though small, has the great merit of being real, and we start t new year knowing that we have money in hand. In former yea the statements of cash balances, besides taking no account outstanding contracts, included as much as two and three-quar millions dollars of railroad taxes belonging to municipalities their schools, but the balance I have mentioned does not incl one cent of such taxes.

Considering that the Legislature of last year provided additional State revenue and was not sure what the State's inc would be, it showed wisdom in placing the appropriations for current year at the very lowest figure. Because that approp tion act has been in force but little more than two months, it not be possible to say definitely at this time whether the S departments and institutions can be run ten months longe the sums allotted to them, but comparing the estimates of t needs with their appropriations, I think many have not given sufficient. For example, the repeated requests of ins tions for enlarged accommodations with which to meet demands on them cannot much longer be ignored; more m than was made available for the current year is needed b the new departments created under the so-called Economy Efficiency Bills; the State Board of Children's Guardians have additional funds with which to perform the duties im upon it by the widows' pension act; new buildings mu erected for the ever increasing number of the insane; the State Printing Board cannot print the reports of departments and commissions with the money given it; the National Guard must have a further allowance, or the encampment at Sea Girt will again be abandoned; the additional Circuit Court Judge which the Legislature thought necessary must be provided with a salary or he cannot be appointed, and the Department of Banking and Insurance requires a larger appropriation for the prompt and efficient examination of the financial condition of our Building and Loan Associations. These and similar cases which I could instance, will, I know, receive your careful thought. Our finances will not permit us to do all we might wish, but we must not cripple our State work. Believing that the sum realized last year under the direct inheritance tax law will be equaled, if not exceeded, this year, and that the other sources of State income will show the usual increase, I feel you can safely grant many of the requests which will surely be presented to you for further appropriations.

The conservation of the State's natural resources deserves earnest consideration. A policy has been adopted for the conservation of our potable water supply, and plans are now maturing which will soon make an important supply in North Jersey available for the people of that section. The proposition to acquire a South Jersey tract of land, known as the Wharton Tract, with its water flowage, was submitted to the voters at the last general election, and was rejected. I am satisfied that this result occurred because little information was in the possession of any State board or department to give to the people to enable them to judge of the merits of the proposition. It was defeated by a majority of 20,539 out of a total of 227,451 votes cast for and against it, while at the same election there were 415,236 votes polled for candidates for office. That is, nearly fifty per cent. of those who voted at that election refrained from voting on the water proposition, presumably because they did not understand it. The counties of Essex, Hudson and Passaic, whose residents have learned by experience the importance of State ownership of water supplies, gave a majority of 14,817 in favor of the proposition, while in all other counties it was defeatec I believe that the time will come when the ownership of wate rights will be of vital importance to the people of South Jerse and that we should not wait until that time to consider the acqu sition of the Wharton Tract. Only a careful examination of tl property by experts can produce the facts upon which to base intelligent opinion, and I would prefer that those facts be pr sented to the Legislature, where they can be examined and di cussed, and where it can be determined whether or not the propo tion has sufficient merit to be again submitted to the people f their approval or rejection. I, therefore, recommend that y empower the State Water Supply Commission, or the Depa ment of Conservation and Development, to make, or have ma an expert examination of the tract in question and adjoin tracts, for the purpose of determining whether any part ther should be acquired by the State, and, if so, how much; what probable value thereof may be, and that the report, with the tailed information obtained, be made to you or to the r Legislature, for determination as to whether the people sh be asked to vote upon the question of a bond issue for the chase of such property and water rights. Of course, the di tion to investigate should be accompanied by an appropriatio sufficient funds to make the investigation thorough.

A committee was appointed by the last Legislature to r road legislation and to lay down a road policy for the Stat hope its investigations will result in a report which will forn basis for intelligent legislation, because the most important difficult problem now pressing for solution is the improve and maintenance of our roads. Proper provision for vehi transportation is of vital moment, not only to our business ests, but the aid the States should give in preparation fo tional defense, includes a system of highways desirabl suitable for military reasons. The increasing and insiste mand for good roads imposes upon the Legislature the d providing them. A few years ago pleasure travel was great, and freight, material and commodities of all kind generally transported by rail or water. We were then concerned with the improvement of a few main arteries, so that the farmer and manufacturer could get their supplies and products to and from nearby railroad or water shipping points, or the local markets, by wagon, but we must now reckon with the automobile. We average one automobile for every thirty-two of our population, which means about six automobiles to every mile of our roads, excluding city streets. The Commissioner of Public Roads, in his report for the year recently closed, estimates that an automobile paying an annual license fee of $7.50 and making 6,000 miles a year, damages the roads to the extent of $30 or $35, while the damage caused by the ordinary two-horse team and wagon will not cost over $8 to replace. It is, therefore, evident that the general use of automobiles for pleasure and business purposes adds tremendously to the traffic burdens the roads must bear, and thus the new and difficult problem is presented to us. The Commissioner of Public Roads also estimates the total mileage of the State, exclusive of streets, at 15,000, of which 10,500 are still unimproved, and he says it will cost $51,300,000 to properly improve the whole mileage. The State's share of this expense would be about $15,000,000.

The annual appropriations heretofore made have been as liberal as the financial condition of the State would permit, and it does not seem possible to materially increase them. Last year the appropriation to the State Road Fund was $500,000, in addition to which there was the Convict Labor Appropriation and the Motor Vehicle Fund, from which sources the State actually disbursed, for road construction and repair, the sum of $1,235,160.23 as follows:

	Construction.	Repair.
State Road Fund, ...	$301,891.51	....
Convict Labor Appropriation, ..	64,903.90	$17,149.93
Motor Vehicle Fund, ...	....	851,214.89
	$366,795.41	$868,364.82

This does not take into consideration all moneys expended for salaries and for office and clerical expenses.

Should the counties be willing to undertake the improvement of all their roads with State aid, and should the State be able to appropriate $500,000 annually, thirty years would elapse before all the roads could be built, and in the meantime some of those improved will have worn out and will require partial, if not whole, reconstruction. It is apparent that our policy of road maintenance and construction requires readjustment, because we cannot, under the plan now pursued, properly maintain our roads with the added uses to which they are put and keep pace with the progress the State demands in building new highways. Other States, recognizing the importance of good roads in the development of the State's municipalities and industries, are spending vast sums for this purpose. How then shall we secure the money the State needs? It is not wise or expedient to raise all the money required at once. The counties could not stand the strain and the Road Department could not be so organized as to handle the vast amount of work which would follow an attempt to construct ten thousand miles of road in one or two years. Perhaps there should be a slight increase in automobile license fees and a portion of these fees devoted to construction work, but it is not just that automobile owners should bear the whole cost, because improved roads benefit the owners of other vehicles; they bring more buyers to the merchants' doors; through them, property owners see increased land values, and nearly every individual, including non-road users, gets the benefit of commercial automobile travel in quicker and cheaper transportation of commodities. I think and therefore advise, that the necessary funds should be raise by a State tax laid specially for road construction purpose and that the work should be spread over a period of fiftee years, in which event the State would need a million dolla annually,—or over ten years, for which a million and a ha dollars would be required each year. The State Board Taxes and Assessment has recently reported the assessed valu tion of the real and personal property of the State, subject local taxation, as $2,583,953,595.29. To raise a million dolla a State tax of less than four-tenths of a mill would be necessa and a tax of less than six-tenths of a mill would raise a million and a half dollars. This small tax, amounting to but forty or sixty cents on each thousand dollars of assessed valuation, would not be felt, and I believe would be willingly paid, if it were to be the means of securing a magnificent road system.

Alignment, grading and guttering and the construction of bridges, is work of a permanent nature, while the foundation, if skillfully and honestly laid, will last for years and will not need frequent renewal. Annual State appropriations and the automobile license fees could be wholly devoted to maintenance and resurfacing work and thus we could keep our roads in first-class condition, but you should also provide for a definite and comprehensive system of road maintenance by patrolling squads, not only for State highways, but for every road which the State aids in maintenance or repair. The present method of constructing a road and then permitting it to wear out, is unbusinesslike and wasteful in the extreme.

The work of the counties on road building is also unbusinesslike, in that it lacks uniformity in policy as to the kind of material used, the method of construction and failure in coöperation between counties in connecting up highways. A policy adopted this year is subject to alteration next year through changes in the Board of Freeholders. The county engineering department and road employees change, too, with changes in membership in their boards. The counties are parts of a great whole, separated only by a stream, by a road, or by an imaginary line, and for the whole, a definite policy for road construction should be laid down by you, to be carried out under the direction of the State Department, by county engineers, supervisors and inspectors who should be experts, protected by tenure of office and not subject to every political change that may occur.

The development and improvement of our public schools is of the utmost importance. In observing the direction of the Constitution to provide for a thorough and efficient system of free public schools for the children of our State, you must give thought to the teacher. New Jersey was one of the first

States to establish a normal school for the training of teachers, but the demands of the schools have outstripped our teacher supply, and we employ from outside the State teachers almost equal in number to those who are graduates of our normal schools. We are now unable to provide accommodations for all applicants for admission to the normal schools, and our high school graduates are rapidly increasing, and I believe a greater proportion of these graduates would become normal students, and later teachers in our schools, if we could offer the additional normal school facilities now denied them. I recommend that you give careful consideration to the demand which has been voiced for another normal school and that the necessary appropriation be made therefor.

The Legislature of 1913 made provision for the promotion of vocational education, offering State aid to those districts desiring to establish and maintain this form of instruction, but limiting the annual expenditure of State funds to $80,000. Largely as a result of this legislation, more than 7,000 persons were enrolled in vocational day and evening classes during the school year ending June 30, 1915. Of this number more than 1,000 were boys and girls, and upwards of 6,000 were young men and young women. The popularity of this very practical form of education has certainly been demonstrated, and in a State so conspicuously industrial as ours it seems fitting that this useful line of instruction should be properly encouraged. To do this it will be necessary to raise the limit of the annual expenditure fixed by the act of 1913, and I recommend that it be done, and that further funds be provided to carry on this system of education now so well established.

I would direct your attention to what appears to be an unintentional, or if intentional then an improper, limitation upon th power of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners to supervise and regulate rates or charges to be fixed or made by th public utilities of our State. It is contended that under th public utilities act, chapter 195 of the laws of 1911, the Boar is without power to compel a common carrier to initiate a ra and that its jurisdiction is limited to the review of rates now existence, or which may be voluntarily proposed by the carrier. This point is directly presented in proceedings in which many South Jersey commuters are interested, now pending before the Board, to compel certain railroads to sell certain forms of tickets for transportation to and from their Camden terminals, similar in form to those sold between Philadelphia and New Jersey stations, so that Camden users of these tickets may not be compelled to pay for ferriage they do not use. The question is also interesting to North Jersey travelers who use the Hudson and Manhattan Railroad and whose journey ends at Hoboken or Jersey City, but who are forced to pay for transportation they do not require beyond the limits of the State. The Pennsylvania Railroad, against which the South Jersey commuters complain, issues special forms of tickets, at special rates, available for transportation between Philadelphia and points in New Jersey, and also issues such tickets between Philadelphia and other points in Pennsylvania, but it refuses to issue the same kind of tickets between New Jersey intrastate points. Thus this carrier maintains a practice for interstate transportation and for transportation wholly within the State of Pennsylvania, which it refuses to follow within the State of New Jersey, thereby discriminating against our State, from which it holds a valuable franchise, and it contends that the Board created to protect the rights of our citizens is without power, under our law, to compel it to give us the same privileges the company accords to citizens of our neighboring State. It seems entirely proper and fair that the Board should have the power to inquire into the justness and reasonableness of this difference in practice, and if found unjust, discriminatory or preferential against our citizens, to order that the railroads sell us the same form of ticket they offer for interstate or intrastate travel and fix the rate therefor. I therefore recommend that an amendment or supplement to our public utility act be passed, which will vest in the Board of Public Utility Commissioners the power to order carriers operating in New Jersey to issue any form of ticket the Board may deem proper for intrastate travel and to fix the rate therefor, or to require such carriers to put into effect forms of tickets the House, the nomination being seconded by Mr. Joseph Carroll, of the same county.

convened, shall judge sufficient. Immediately after the appointment of the Standing Committees, the members shall arrange among themselves their several seats appropriated to their counties; and in case of disagreement, the same shall be decided by lot.

OF THE DUTIES OF THE SPEAKER.

4. He shall take the chair at the hour to which the House shall have adjourned, and immediately call the members to order; and on the appearance of a quorum, shall cause the journal of the preceding day to be read, which may then be corrected by the House.

5. He shall preserve order and decorum, and in debate shall prevent personal reflections, and confine members to the question under discussion; but he shall not engage in any debate, nor propose his opinion on any question, without first calling on some member to occupy the chair. When two or more members arise at the same time, he shall name the one entitled to the floor.

6. He shall decide questions of order, subject to an appeal to the House, when demanded by any four members, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once, unless by leave of the House.

7. All questions before the House shall be stated by the Speaker, and distinctly put in the following form, to wit: "As many as are in favor of (the question) will say aye;" and after the affirmative is expressed, "Those of a contrary opinion, no." If the Speaker doubts, or a division be called for, the House shall divide; those in the affirmative of the question shall first arise from their seats, and afterwards those in the negative; and in case of an equal division, the Speaker shall decide.

8. All Committees shall be appointed by the Speaker, unless otherwise specially directed by the House.

9. All acts, addresses and joint resolutions shall be signed by the Speaker; and all writs, warrants and subpœnas issued by the order of the House shall be under his hand and seal, and attested by the Clerk. If the Speaker be absent, a less number of members than a quorum may appoint a Speaker pro tempore, who may sign any warrants, or perform any act requisite to bring in absent members.

10. He shall have a general direction of the hall, and he may name a member to perform the duties of the Chair; but such substitution shall not extend beyond a second adjournment.

OF THE ORDER OF BUSINESS.

III. Original resolutions may be offered and considered; items of unfinished business referred; motions to reconsider and to appoint additional members of Committees made; and leave of absence and leave to withdraw documents asked.

IV. Bills and joint resolutions on a third reading may be taken up.

V. The House shall then proceed in the order of the day, preference being always given to the unfinished business of the previous sitting; after which bills and joint resolutions on a second reading shall be taken in their order; and the House, in its afternoon session, will proceed to business as though there had been no adjournment of its morning session, excepting that original resolutions, and leave to introduce bills of Committees, be the first business in the afternoon session; and shall, on demand of the majority, proceed with the order of the day.

12. The Clerk shall make a list of all public bills and joint resolutions. He shall, from day to day, prepare, under the supervision of the Speaker, a calendar of bills and resolutions for consideration He shall keep a separate list of private bills. No bills for granting, continuing, altering, amending, or renewing a charter for any corporation, other than a municipal corporation, shall be placed on the calendar of public bills. All bills, public and private, shall be numbered according to the time of their receipt by the Clerk. They shall be taken up and considered in the order of time in which they were reported, or ordered to a third reading, as appears by the calendar; and the calendar shall be proceeded in until all the bills thereon are called up before the commencement of the calendar anew. The Clerk shall post in a conspicuous place in his office a list of all hearings to be held on bills.

13. All messages shall be sent from this House to the Senate by the Clerk.

OF DECORUM AND DEBATE.

14. When a member is about to speak in debate, or communicate any matter to the House, he shall rise from his seat and respectfully address himself to the Speaker, confining himself to the question under debate, and avoiding personality.

15. If any member in debate transgress the rules of the House, the Speaker shall, or any member may, call him to order, in which which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down, unless permitted to explain. The House shall, if appealed to, decide on the case, but without debate; if there be no appeal, the decision of the Chair shall be submitted to. 16. If a member be called to order for words spoken in debate, the person calling him to order shall repeat the words excepted to, and they shall be taken down in writing at the Clerk's table; and no member shall be held to answer, or be subject to the censure of the House, for words spoken in debate, if any other member has spoken, or other business has intervened after the words spoken, and before exception to them shall have been taken.

19. No member shall vote on any question in the event of which he is particularly interested, nor in any case where he was not within the bar of the House when the question was put.

20. Every member who shall be in the House when the question is put shall give his vote, unless the House for special reasons shall excuse him. All motions to excuse a member from voting shall be made before the House divides, or before the call of the yeas and nays is commenced: any member requesting to be excused from voting may make a brief verbal statement of the reasons for such request, and the question shall then be taken without further debate.

21. Petitions, memorials and other papers addressed to the House shall be presented by the Speaker, or by a member in his place; a brief statement of the contents thereof shall be made by the introducer, and, if called upon, he shall declare that it does not, in his opinion, contain any indecent or reproachful language, or any expressions of disrespect to the House, or any Committee of the same.

22. It shall be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms, at all times, not to allow any person to smoke in the Assembly Chamber.

ON MOTIONS.

23. Every motion shall be reduced to writing, if the Speaker or any member desire it.

24. When a motion is made and seconded, it shall be stated by the Speaker, or, being in writing, it shall be handed to the Chair and read aloud by the Clerk, when it shall be deemed to be in the possession of the House and open to debate; but it may be withdrawn at any time before a decision or amendment.

25. When a question is under debate no motion shall be received but—

1. To adjourn.
2. A call of the House.
3. To lay on the table.
4. For the previous question.
5. To postpone indefinitely.
6. To postpone to a day certain.
7. To go into a Committee of the Whole on the pending subject immediately.
8. To commit to a Committee of the Whole.
9. To commit to a Standing Committee.
10. To commit to a Select Committee.
11. To amend.

Which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are stated, and no motion to postpone to a day certain, to commit, or to postpone indefinitely, being decided, shall be again allowed on the same day and at the same stage of the bill or proposition.

26. A motion to strike out the enacting clause of a bill or joint resolution shall have precedence of a motion to amend, and if carried shall be considered equivalent to its rejection.

27. A motion to adjourn shall be always in order, except when the House is voting or while a member is addressing the House or immediately after the question to adjourn has been negatived; that, and the motion to lay on the table, shall be decided without debate.

28. Any member may call for a division of the question, which shall be divided if it comprehends questions so distinct that one being taken away from the rest may stand entire for the decision of the House; a motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible; but a motion to strike out being lost, shall preclude neither amendment nor a motion to strike out and insert.

29. When any motion shall be made and seconded, the same shall, at the request of any two members, be entered on the Journal of the House.

30. When a motion has been once made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for any member who voted with the prevailing party to move for the reconsideration thereof, on the same day or on the next day of actual session of the House thereafter; all motions may be reconsidered by a majority of the members present; but bills to be reconsidered must have the same majority that would be necessary to pass them; and such vote on motion to reconsider shall be by taking the yeas and nays.

31. When a blank is to be filled, the question shall first be taken on the largest sum or greatest number and remotest day.

32. The yeas and nays shall be entered on the Journal of the House, when moved for and seconded by five members, and in taking the yeas and nays the names of the members, including the Speaker, shall be called alphabetically.

33. The previous question shall be put in this form: "Shall the main question be now put?" It shall only be admitted when demanded by a majority of the members present, and its effect shall be, if decided affirmatively, to put an end to all debate and bring the House to a direct vote upon amendments reported by a committee, if any, then upon pending amendments, and then upon the main question; if decided in the negative, to leave the main question and amendments, if any, under debate for the residue of the sitting unless sooner disposed of by taking the question, or in some other manner. All incidental questions of order arising after a motion is made for the previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

34. After the Clerk has commenced calling the yeas and nays on any question, no motion shall be received until a decision shall have been announced by the Chair.

The Speaker presented the following communication from the Attorney-General:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 8th, 1916.

Hon. Charles C. Pilgrim, Speaker of the House of Assembly:

SIR—I have received from the Clerk of the House of Assembly the following resolution:

> "Resolved, That the Attorney-General be requested to advise the General Assembly at the earliest possible moment whether a committee created by a concurrent resolution of both Houses of the Legislature survives the adjournment thereof; whether such committee can hold such meetings after such adjournment and whether it can compel the attendance of witnesses and otherwise perform the functions for which it was created."

I am of the opinion that a concurrent resolution of both Houses of the Legislature, that is, a resolution not passed in the manner prescribed in the Constitution for the passage of a joint resolution, has no efficacy after the final adjournment of the Legislature, and that a committee appointed by such concurrent resolution ceases to exist as a committee after final adjournment, and cannot hold meetings, compel the attendance of witnesses, or otherwise perform the functions for which it was created; that any act performed or report made by such committee after the final adjournment of the Legislature would be the voluntary act of mere private individuals.

This very question has been recently decided by the Supreme Court of Illinois in a most exhaustive and learned opinion, in the case of Burlington v. Russel. The opinion was filed November 6th, 1915. In that case the Supreme Court decides that joint resolutions of the General Assembly appointing joint committees of the two Houses for the performance of duties after the sine die adjournment of the Legislature, and the making of appropriations to provide for the necessary expenses of such joint committees, are illegal and void. The Court says:

> "With the sine die adjournment of the Legislature all its functions as a legislative body cease. Its work is ended. It will not again be called into existence except on the call of the Chief Executive for a special purpose, and no presumption will be indulged that it will be again so called into being. During the sessions of the Legislature either House may appoint separate committees, and the two Houses, acting concurrently, may appoint joint committees for any proper purpose, which may exercise such powers as the House or Houses appointing them may lawfully delegate or impose. The only powers which can be conferred upon and delegated to such committes are such powers as are possessed by the House or Houses making the appointment. As all the powers of the Legislature, as such, cease upon its final adjournment, it must follow that all the powers which have been delegated by it, or either House thereof, to a committee by mere resolution, cease also. In Tipton v. Parker, 71 Ark. 193, it was held that neither House of the General Assembly, by separate resolution, has the authority to appoint a committee to make any investigation after the final adjournment of the Legislature. We perceive no reason why the holding in that case, of which we approve, should not apply to a joint resolution of both Houses appointing such committee. Such committees may be appointed, and they may act and may lay before the succeeding General Assembly the result of their investigations, but in so doing they are acting under no authority, but by mere > request, and they have no authority delegated to them which they may exercise. In such a case the act is not that of a committee authorized by the Legislature or either House thereof, but is the voluntary act of mere private individuals."

I have found three cases in other States, all cited and distinguished or criticised in the Illinois case, bearing to some extent upon this question, viz., State v. Frear, 138 Wis. 173; Branham v. Lange, 16 Ind. 497, and In re Davis, 58 Kan. 368.

In the Frear case it does not appear from the opinion of the Court whether the committee appointed under a concurrent resolution was appointed for the purpose of making an investigation during the session of the Legislature, or after its final adjournment, or with power to act after final adjournment. The case cannot, therefore, be considered as in point, as there can be no doubt of the power of a committee to act during the session.

In the Lange case the committee was appointed by an act of the Legislature regularly passed, and not by a joint or concurrent resolution. There could, therefore, be no doubt of the power of the committee to sit after adjournment.

In the Davis case the Court holds that the committee appointed under the concurrent resolution there under consideration had power to sit after final adjournment. This decision is expressly disapproved by the Supreme Court of Illinois in the opinion above cited, and the conclusion in the Kansas case appears to be based largely upon the language of the general appropriation act, making provision for the expenses of the committee, which seems to indicate an intention on the part of the Legislature by this act to provide for the continuance of the committee after the final adjournment of the Legislature.

I think a committee, to be authorized to sit after the adjournment of the Legislature, should be created by a procedure having the force and efficacy of a statute, and that it should give to the committee express power to sit after adjournment.

Yours very truly,

JOHN W. WESCOTT,

Attorney-General.

Resolved, That the privileges of the floor be granted to ex-Freeholder of Hudson County Geo. W. Capam.

Mr. Simpson offered the following resolution, which was read by the Clerk:

WHEREAS, The telephone is a practical necessity; and

WHEREAS, It is alleged that the gross revenues of the New York Telephone Company in the State of New Jersey are fifty million dollars yearly; and

WHEREAS, It is alleged that the charges for telephone service to the inhabitants of this State are excessive as compared to the rates charged in other States by the same company; and

WHEREAS, It is alleged that the burden of taxation borne by the said company is inadequate, in that railroad companies and other public service companies of the State bear a greater burden of taxation than the said telephone company compared with its revenues and properties in this State; and

WHEREAS, In many places in this State the said company, it is alleged, occupies highways and public property without charge; and

WHEREAS, The complete investigation of this subject of telephone users, telephone taxation, telephone regulation of charges, cannot properly be administered by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners because it involves legislation, collection of facts, taking of testimony of an exhaustive nature and not the investigation of individual complaints by subscribers to or users of the telephone, and the matter is one for legislative investigation and action,

Now, therefore, be it resolved, That the Speaker of this House do appoint a committee of five members, which committee shall have full power to investigate the ownership, conduct, method of taxation, method of charges for telephone service and theory of bookkeeping of the said company if it is attempted to justify the said charges by referring to the moneys invested in the said company; and full power in the judgment of the said committee to do any and everything which may be necessary to be done to obtain complete information on the conduct of the telephone business in the State of New Jersey by the New York Telephone Company and its allied corporations; that the said committee have power to employ counsel, to issue subpœnas for the presence of witness and for the production of evidence, written, typewritten or printed, or inscribed in any manner, and to report to this House at a time named by the Speaker the result of its investigation and its recommendations as to whether the telephone charges are excessive, whether the taxation of the said company is just and whether the convenience of the users of the telephone in this State would not better be served by a public ownership of the said telephone equipment, and as to what legislation is necessary on the subject.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, and was read as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
March 6th, 1916.

To the Legislature:

I deem it my duty to return Assembly Bill No. 523 without my approval.

I would interpose no objection to advancing the date for the Presidential primaries, but I cannot agree that it is advisable to shorten to such an extent as this bill proposes, the time within which a person named by petition as a candidate for President, may file a declination.

Under the existing law, a petition endorsing one as a candidate for the office of President of the United States, must be filed with the Secretary of State on or before April 1st, and if the person so endorsed desires to decline to have his name printed on the primary ticket, he must do so in writing filed with the Secretary of State, on or before April 25th. This bill proposes to make no change in the date for filing the petition of endorsement, but it would change the date for filing the declination to April 6th. It seems to me that six days is entirely too short a time to allow the person endorsed to file a written declination. He might live on the Pacific Coast; he might be out of the country; he might require some days in which to determine his course in such an important situation, or other contingencies might easily be suggested which would make it exceedingly difficult, if not impossible, to comply with the provision. I think that those who have favored the proposed change would appreciate the objection to it, were it stated in a slightly different form, namely, that the petition of endorsement should be considered of no effect unless the person endorsed should file his acceptance on or before April 6th.

Respectfully,
JAMES F. FIELDER,
Governor.

Attest: L. EDWARD HERRMANN,
Secretary to the Governor.

Objection being made, consent was refused.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
DEPARTMENT OF BANKING AND INSURANCE,
TRENTON, March 2d, 1916.

Hon. Charles C. Pilgrim, Speaker of the House of Assembly,
State House, Trenton, N. J.:

SIR—I have received a copy of the resolution of the House of Assembly directing the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance to report to it a list of all persons receiving a salary or other compensation as an officer or employee of any fire insurance company doing business in New Jersey which equals or exceeds the sum of $5,000 per year, and whether any such officer or employee receiving such salary or compensation is receiving any salary or compensation from any other corporation or position, and if so, from which corporation or position and how much from each.

The resolution further directs the commissioner to report at once such of the above information as he may have in his office, and as to such as may not be in his possession, to report thereon from time to time as he is able to obtain the same.

For the information of the members of your honorable body I would state that the reports rendered to this department by fire insurance companies do not contain the data called for by the resolution, but only show, with respect to salaries of officers and employees, the total sum paid annually on that account. Life insurance companies are expressly required by the insurance law to include in their annual statements to this office "the salary, compensation and emoluments received by officers or directors, without exception, and that received by any person, firm or corporation, where the same amounts to more than five thousand dollars, with particulars as to dates, amounts, payees and the authority by which the payment was made, etc.," but there is no similar requirement as to insurance companies other than life companies; nor are other than life insurance companies obliged by the insurance authorities of any other State to include such data in their reports, so far as this department is aware. It will therefore be necessary to call upon the respective companies to furnish the information desired, which will necessitate more or less delay in complying with the resolution.

Very respectfully yours,
GEO. W. LA MONTE,
Commissioner of Banking and Insurance.

Mr. Kates moved that the communication be received and spread on the Minutes.

Which motion was adopted.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
SENATE CHAMBER,
March 7th, 1916.

Mr. Speaker:

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate has passed the following concurrent resolution:

WHEREAS, Our holidays were established, in most part, as days upon which to celebrate and keep alive, for the benefit of future generations, the sentiment or lesson of some past event and such day fails of its purpose unless it is devoted by a considerable portion of the population to exercises that aim to keep alive the spirit of the event, and which inculcates in the minds of the people, especially the youthful and the immigrant citizens, the lessons that are to be drawn from it for the guidance of a people in future years;

WHEREAS, Our holidays occurring as they do on fixed dates generally fall in the busy part of the week and as a result, instead of being utilized or enjoyed are mostly merely endured, and at the same time interrupt the regular course of industrial, mercantile and commercial business. None of the precise dates of their occurrence are of paramount importance when compared with the spirit of the event which we aim to commemorate and which we could more generally and fervently celebrate at the week end;

WHEREAS, That such rearrangement of our holilays, which are at present so inert when occurring in mid-week would prove beneficial and consequently acceptable to all as week-end holidays may be inferred from past experience with the extension of the Saturday half-holiday since it was established more than twenty years ago;

WHEREAS, Because of the close industrial and social relations existing between the people of New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey whatever holidays are observed in these States the days of their observance should be as nearly as possible the same in all;

Resolved by the Senate (the Assembly concurring), That the Governor is hereby authorized and requested to extend to the Governors of New York and Pennsylvania an invitation to each appoint a commission of three members to meet with a like commission which the Governor is hereby authorized and requested to appoint for the purpose of formulating a plan for rearranging the days of observing our present holidays so that they may be as nearly as possible observed at week ends;

Resolved, That these resolutions do not contemplate changing the days now designated for observing Christmas, New Year's Day, or Good Friday, nor any increase or decrease in the present number of annual holiday hours but a rearrangement of the present hours so that they may be utilized by the people to greater advantage.

In which the concurrence of the House of Assembly is requested.

FRANCIS B. DAVIS
Secretary of the Senate.

Mr. Kates moved that the Senate message be referred to the Committee on Social Welfare.

In the case of a public sale or auction the governing body may delegate its power to award or to reject bids to a committee or to a financial officer. If no bids are received for any bonds advertised to be sold at public sale herein, they may, within thirty days thereafter, be sold at private sale, but such sales shall be made or confirmed by resolution of the governing body adopted by a two-thirds vote of all the members thereof. 7. Such bonds shall be signed by two or more officers, including the chief executive officer, and under seal of such municipality, and the coupons, if any, shall be signed by the facsimile signature of a financial officer of such municipality. Said bonds may be made payable in such medium and at such place within or without the State and shall be in such form as may by resolution be provided, and may be either registered or coupon bonds, and if coupon bonds may be registered as to principal only, or as to both principal and interest as provided by other laws heretofore or hereafter enacted. The governing body of any municipality may also provide for the designation of a transfer agent or registrar of its bonds, either within or without this State. Nothing in this act shall prevent any such municipality from providing for the transfer of bonds by the exchange of new bonds therefor, when such exchange is authorized by law.

8. The proceeds of any bonds issued under this act shall be paid to the treasurer of the municipality, who shall in no event disburse the same except to pay the expenses of issuing and selling the same and for the purpose or purposes for which such bonds were issued. If, for any reason, any part of such proceeds are not applied to or necessary for such purpose or purposes, the governing body may reappropriate the proceeds remaining unapplied to pay the principal of any outstanding bonds.

9. If within ten days after the publication of the ordinance authorizing the bonds in any borough or township a protest or protests against the issuance of said bonds shall be filed in the office of the clerk of such borough or township, signed either by one-third of the governing body in office adopting such ordinance or by taxpayers representing ten per centum in amount of the assessed valuation of such borough or township, whose names appear on the last preceding assessment roll thereof, then such bonds shall not be issued unless within sixty days after the publication of such ordinance a proposition for the issuance thereof shall be adopted at an election to be held for that purpose by a majority of the qualified voters of such municipalities voting on such proposition. The certificate of the clerk of the borough or the township filed in his office as to the filing or sufficiency of any protest or protests shall be conclusive for the purposes of this section. At least ten days before any such election, notice thereof shall be published once as required by section 11. Such election shall be held, conducted and canvassed as other elections in such borough or township. The governing body of such borough or township shall adopt a resolution declaring the result of said election, which resolution shall be published once as required by section 11. No action, suit or proceeding to contest the validity of said election shall be instituted after the expiration of twenty days from the date of publication of the resolution declaring the result thereof.

10. Any bonds reciting that they are issued pursuant to this act shall, in any suit, action or proceeding involving their validity, be conclusively deemed to be fully authorized by this act and to have been issued, sold, executed and delivered in conformity herewith and with all other provisions of statutes applicable thereto, and shall be incontestable, anything herein or in other statutes, to the contrary notwithstanding, unless such suit, action or proceeding is begun prior to the delivery of such bonds.

11. Any notice, resolution or ordinance required or authorized in this act to be published, shall be published in a newspaper, published in such municipality, or if no newspaper is published therein, then in a newspaper published in the county and circulating in such municipality.

12 (1) Before the ordinance or resolution mentioned in section two is finally adopted and before any ordinance or resolution is finally adopted authorizing any indebtedness by the making of a contract for an improvement or the acquisition of any property for which bonds may be issued hereunder, and whenever directed by the governing body or by any board or body, by whatsoever name it may be known, authorized by law to incur indebtedness or to issue bonds, the chief financial officer of the municipality shall file in the office of the clerk of the municipality a statement under oath of the financial condition of the municipality, and such statement shall be a public record open to public inspection.

(2) Such statement shall set forth:

A. The gross indebtedness of the municipality, exclusive of indebtedness incurred for current expenses of the current fiscal year, and inclusive of notes or bonds or certificates of the municipality issued for school purposes, but not including the indebtedness of a school district constituting a separate corporation.

Such gross indebtedness shall be itemized as follows:

(a) The bonded debt, stating separately bonds payable in whole or in part out of special assessments on property specially benefited and bonds issued for each of the following purposes, in so far as separately issued for such purposes, namely, docks, water supply, electric light or power, gas, markets and any other purpose, from the carrying out of which the municipality derives revenue from rental or service.

(b) Indebtedness not evidenced by bonds, including any liability due or to become due under any contract for an improvement or property or by reason of the acquisition of any property by condemnation or otherwise for which bonds may be issued hereunder. If the amount of any part of such indebtedness is indefinite or unascertainable, the official making the statement shall estimate the amount thereof.

(c) The amount of the debt about to be incurred.

B. The deductions, including the debt about to be incurred or the proceeds derived therefrom, if such debt or proceeds will, when incurred or received, be within any of the items below stated. In case the amount of any item which may be included in the deductions is indefinite or unascertainable, the official making the statement shall estimate the amount thereof.

Such deductions shall be itemized as follows:

(a) Indebtedness payable in whole or in part out of special assessments against property specially benefited to the amount of such special assessments levied and uncollected, which amount shall be stated.

(b) Indebtedness to an amount not exceeding three per centum of the average of the assessed valuation as stated in subdivision D hereof, incurred for any of the following purposes but not for the support or maintenance thereof, separately stated in so far as separately issued for such purposes, namely, for docks, electric light or power, gas, markets and any other purpose from the carrying out of which the municipality derives revenue from rentals or services rendered, the payment of the principal and interest of which indebtedness was adequately provided for from such revenue after deducting operating expenses during the previous fiscal year.

(c) Indebtedness incurred for the supply of water.

(d) Indebtedness included in the gross indebtedness incurred for school purposes to an amount not exceeding three per centum of the averaged assessed valuations as stated in subdivision D hereof.

(e) In the case of counties, indebtedness incurred for park purposes to the amount of one per centum of the average assessed valuation as stated in subdivision D hereof.

(f) Funds in hand and sinking funds or such parts thereof as are held for the payment of any part of the gross indebtedness, other than that which is included in these deductions.

(g) Amount, if any, included in the current taxes levied for the payment of any part of the gross indebtedness, other than that which is included in these deductions.

(h) Amount of unpaid taxes not more than three years in arrears.

(i) Indebtedness incurred for the construction or reconstruction of dykes, bulkheads, jetties or other devices, erected along the ocean or inlet fronts and intended to prevent the encroachment of the sea, including the improvements to restore property damaged by the sea.

C. The net debt of the municipality or county, as the case may be, as determined by deducting the deductions stated in subdivision B from the gross debt stated in subdivision A.

D. The three next preceding assessed valuations of the taxable real property (including improvements) of the municipality and the average thereof.

E. The percentage that the net debt as computed under subdivision C bears to the average of the assessed valuations computed under subdivision D.

(3) Bonds authorized by this act and indebtedness incurred by the making of a contract for an improvement or the acquisition of any property for which bonds may be issued hereunder shall not be issued or incurred by a municipality other than a county which shall cause the net debt as computed in said sworn statement to exceed seven per centum of the average assessed valuations as stated in said sworn statement, and shall not be issued or incurred by any county which shall cause the net debt of such county, as computed in said sworn statement, to exceed two per centum of the average assessed valuations as stated in said sworn statement.

(4) Any municipality, other than a county, which at the date when this act shall take effect shall be within two per centum, and any county which shall then be within one per centum of its limit of debt incurring capacity, on the basis of any such statement made after said date, may, notwithstanding the provisions of this section twelve, further increase such net debt to the extent that all such further increases together shall not exceed in the case of a municipality other than a county two per centum, and in the case of a county one per centum, of the average of the three assessed valuations of the real property (including improvements) of the municipality next preceding the date when this act shall take effect. And in order to determine the debt incurring capacity of a municipality under this subsection (4), a statement of the financial condition of the municipality at the date of the passage of this act, and of all the increases of the net debt since said date, shall be made and filed as provided for in subsections 1 and 2 hereof, and shall be conclusive.

13. Any municipality may temporarily finance the carrying out of any purpose for which it is herein authorized to issue bonds by borrowing money and issuing from time to time, temporary improvement notes or temporary improvement bonds, which shall state in general terms the purpose for which they are issued and shall mature in not exceeding one year from their date and may be subject to earlier call for payment and shall bear interest at not exceeding six per centum per annum. Such notes or bonds may from time to time be renewed by the issuance of new notes or bonds of such maturity and rate of interest and which may also be subject to call, but such renewal notes or bonds shall not be renewed after six years after the purpose for which they are issued has been carried out. Such notes or bonds shall be authorized by resolution of the governing body and shall be executed as herein provided for other bonds. Such notes or bonds shall not be subject to the provisions of any other section hereof, except that the amount thereof shall be stated in the statement provided to be made in section twelve hereof, and the provisions of this section thirteen shall be qualified only by the provisions of section fourteen.

14. This act shall take effect immediately and shall supersede the provisions of all other laws relating to the subject matters hereof except as otherwise expressly stated herein; provided, however, that this act shall not affect or apply to the incurring of indebtedness or the issuance of bonds or other obligations for school purposes, or in anticipation of the collection of taxes levied or to be levied or in arrears, or for uncollected taxes represented by tax titles, or under laws enacted after March tenth, one thousand nine hundred and sixteen; provided, further, that this act shall not affect or apply to the incurring of indebtedness or the issuance of bonds or other obligations prior to July first, one thousand nine hundred and sixteen, under laws heretofore enacted; provided, further, that this act shall not prevent the issuance of bonds maturing as provided in a proposition for the issuance of said bonds adopted at an election of the qualified voters of any municipality held before July first, one thousand nine hundred and sixteen; provided, further, that in any borough or township, if a proposition for the issuance of bonds has been adopted at an election of qualified voters held prior to July first, one thousand nine hundred and sixteen, the provisions of section nine hereof shall not apply to such bonds."

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of his Secretary, and was read as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
March 8th, 1916.

To the Assembly:

I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 209 without my approval.

It would seem strange that a plan for reorganizing the Labor Department, as provided in this bill, should be received from the hands of a man who is to benefit by its passage and should have your approval without any investigation as to its feasibility or practicability especially when another plan has been recommended after a full examination by a competent State Commission. The Commissioner of Labor testified before the Economy and Efficiency Commission two years ago, and during an extended examination made by that commission suggested no such plan as this for his department, and yet he had then held his office ten years and must have known whether or not the plan is good. The fact is that the Economy and Efficiency Commission, after that examination, had this to say in its report to the Legislature of 1914:

"We believe that if an advisory board for this department were established, greater efficiency and economy would result and that the State would thereby have an added check and safeguard now denied, by reason of what might appear a one-man management. The salary of the Commissioner of Labor should be fixed at $4,000 per annum, as we believe the present salary paid is extravagant."

The commission then reported a plan for the reorganization and management of this department under an advisory board, being the same as it recommended for other State departments and as afterward approved by the Legislature in the reorganization of the Department of Conservation and Development, the Department of Commerce and Navigation and the Department of Health. I see no reason why the report of the Economy and Efficiency Commission should be repudiated in this instance, except a political reason which calls for the extension of the term of the man who now holds the office of Commissioner of Labor and placing in his hands more power than is conferred upon any man in any other State department. Not content with extending his term two years, you propose to give him a salary of $6,000, although the Economy and Efficiency Commission said that sum is extravagant and that under the acts passed upon the the recommndation of that Commission, the executive heads of other departments can receive no more than $5,000.

Where the term of an official is fixed by law and he has been appointed for that term, it is improper to undertake to legislate him into office for a longer term, especially where the admitted reason is that he and the appointing power are not of the same political faith and it is feared he will not be reappointed. If this particular official is so competent that no fit person can be chosen to succeed him, why limit his term and why not make him secure in his office for life?

Were it not for the desire to protect the man, I feel sure you would not pass this bill, not only because it proposes a plan contrary to that which you have adopted in the organization of other State boards, but because of the additional expense it will entail on the State. It specifically provides for twenty-three inspectors, being one more than the number now employed in the department. It also provides for a Chief Inspector of a Bureau of Electrical Equipment, a Chief Inspector of a Bureau of Hygiene and Sanitation and a Chief of a Bureau of Industrial Statistics. These new offices will add $8,000 in salaries annually to the expense of the department. The bill also provides for a Bureau of Employment to perform the duties defined by Chapter 47 of the Laws of 1915. When this act was passed, a year ago, it was understood that it should not add any expense to the State and it was prepared with that end in view. Under it the Commissioner of Labor was authorized to appoint an advisory committee to aid him in carrying out the work and to serve without pay, but by section 15 of this bill the commissioner is authorized to appoint a chief of this bureau and such clerks and employees as he may think necessary and fix their compensation. What expense this bureau will add to the sum of $8,000 I cannot, nor can you, estimate.

But this is by no means all the extra expense this bill will entail and as evidencing an intention to place more employees on the pay roll of this department, I would direct you attention to the fact that by section 18 all inspectors, employees and appointees now in the service of the department are continued in service, and that by section 16 the commissioner is empowered to appoint such other clerks and stenographers as he may consider necessary and fix their compensation, and by section 19 he may appoint such inspectors, investigators and advisors, in excess of those specifically mentioned in the bill, as he may consider necessary and fix their compensation.

This is the most reckless sort of legislation, and I cannot permit it to be placed upon our statute books without emphatic protest.

Respectfully,
JAMES F. FIELDER,
Governor.

Mr. Kates moved that the Governor's message be received and spread in full upon the Minutes, and the bill lie over, as required by the Constitution.

Which motion was adopted.

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of his Secretary, and was read as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, March 13th, 1916.

To the Legislature:

The authorities of the county of Hudson have drawn my attention to what appears to be its very meritorious claim for payment of arrears, as well as for future annual payments for the care of tubercular patients, under Chapter 217 of the Laws of 1912, and I believe it my duty to bring the matter to your notice.

When Hudson county established a tuberculosis hospital under the act to which I have referred, it became mandatory on the State, by section 13 of the act, to pay the county each year three dollars per week for every person cared for in the hospital, except those who paid for their own maintenance. Each year the county has applied to the Legislature for an appropriation to cover the State's share of the maintenance cost, but its requests have been ignored. Itemized claims at the statutory rate, amounting to $24,854.28, are now on file in the Comptroller's Office for patients cared for from November, 1914, to October 31, 1915, and the county has a further claim from November 1, 1915, to October 31, 1916, (based upon an estimated number of patients), amounting to $38,064, so that it will require a total of $62,918.28 in your supplemental appropriation bill to pay the pending claims against the State. Beside such supplemental appropriation, the county insists that there shall be included in the annual appropriation bill for the year commencing November 1, 1916, the sum of $49,140 for maintenance of its tubercular patients for the next fiscal year.

Hudson county appears to have complied in all respects with the law of 1912, and the State should do its part as provided by that law. Under the act, the State is required to pay but three dollars per week for each patient, although I am informed that the cost to the county last year was eight dollars per patient, and considering the increased price of food stuffs and supplies, the per capita cost for the present year will probably be ten dollars. It is not fair that the State should ignore its duty in this matter and that thereby the whole cost of maintaining this hospital should be thrown upon the taxpayers of Hudson county, and I would strongly urge that the State recognize its present debt and its responsibility to the county, by making the necessary provision in the supplemental and annual appropriation bills you are about to pass.

Respectfully,
JAMES F. FIELDER,
Governor.

[SEAL.]
Attest:
L. EDWARD HERRMAN,
Secretary to the Governor.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, and was read as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, March 13th, 1916.

To the Senate:

I herewith return Senate Joint Resolution No. 1 without my approval, because I consider it unnecessary legislation.

It is a copy of Joint Resolution No. 5, found on page 885 of the Laws of 1915, except that that resolution provides for the appointment by the Governor of the three Commissioners to make revision of the primary and election laws. Had the last Legislature made an appropriation to cover the expenses, the Commission would necessarily incur, I would have appointed Commissioners under the Resolution of 1915. The sole object sought to be accomplished by this resolution is to take the appointment of Commissioners from the Governor and vest it in the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House and the Governor. If the desire of the Legislature is merely to have the primary and election laws revised, that desire can be realized by the simple method of including an appropriation for expenses in this year's supplemental appropriation bill, thus enabling me to appoint the Commission under the Joint Resolution of 1915.

Respectfully,

[SEAL.] JAMES F. FIELDER,
Governor.

Attest:

L. EDWARD HERRMANN,
Secretary to the Governor.

On motion of Mr. Kates, the message was ordered spread in full upon the Minutes and the bill laid over.

Mr. Dolan offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

WHEREAS, A year has past in the life of Ireland since the House of Commons of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland has granted to the people of that God-loving country the restoration of her ancient Parliament and her right to rule herself, of which right she has been unjustly and autocratically deprived for over one hundred long, hard, heart-breaking and oppresive years, the right to rule, however, being postponed to some indefinite date or time in the future; and

WHEREAS, The population of Ireland under the misrule of the British Parliament has been reduced by famine and exile from

9,000,000 population in 1840 to 3,000,000 population to-day; many of the exiles coming to this grand and glorious country have added greatly to our wealth, literature, science and arts, and have by their genius and attainments in our navy, in our army, and in all the departments of our political government, assisted in enhancing the value of our institutions and in defending and upholding them against all attempts to assail them abroad or impugn the integrity of our Constitution and our laws from every source, and by every means, foreign and domestic; and

WHEREAS, The prospective return of this right to legislate for herself and her people is, and of right ought to have been ceded to Ireland long years ago and should not have been indefinitely postponed to some indefinite day in the future, and which right is recognized by the mass of the people of this great State of New Jersey as an act of justice and the consequent broadening of the minds of the people of that great United Kingdom in line with the world-prevailing tendency for the extension of that great democratic doctrine of "Home Rule" for which doctrine both of the great political parties of this grand American Republic stand, and which is by them recognized to be the evidence of the supremacy of the people in the management of their own affairs; and

WHEREAS, Ireland has prospects of being a nation of the world with the ability to govern and rule herself free and independent of any other nation in line with her ancient right, and has manifested her gratitude for the prospective restoration of her powers to legislate as a free and independent nation by the grand and glorious enlistment of thousands of her sons in the army of that great United Kingdom at a time when it was so sorely needed and whose sons have shown bravery and courage equalled by no nation on this earth; and

WHEREAS, Ireland has ever been the seat of learning, and her sons have gone forth to the far corners of the earth and have spread education and learning to the nations of the world, and now hold many of the most important positions in the colleges of the world, as well as in the political life of these States and of this nation; and

WHEREAS, This learning was first brought to Ireland by the great Saint Patrick, who labored incessantly for the people of his adoption and left the seeds of greatness behind him to be enjoyed by the people who have ever loved and revered the name of their great patron, Saint Patrick, and who who to this day have set apart the seventeenth day of March in his honor and to his memory; and

WHEREAS, The approach of Saint Patrick's Day serves to remind us that Erin has the prospects of once more being a nation and is rebuilding her national arts, literature, science, law and music which were the foundation of the universities of Paris, Oxford and St. Gall, which universities still possess the treasures of the early Irish fundamentals, and will before many years elapse again be on the ascendancy in all matters pertaining to education; therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED by this House of Assembly of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey:

That we extend, on the natal day of Ireland's Saint, our heartfelt congratulations to Ireland as a nation of the earth and to the people of Erin, and their descendants and friends in these United States of America and to the members of the various patriotic Irish societies of this State and country and to the members of this House of Assembly who are descendants of the Irish nation and have a patriotic and never-dying love for Ireland as a nation, upon Ireland's prospects of success in obtaining the right to rule herself; and we do further congratulate them on their unconquerable perseverance and persistence to accomplish this end, and we record by this resolution our hope that the freedom and liberty which has been granted them shall ripen into absolute freedom and liberty and shall continue forever; and

Be it further resolved, That the national flags of these United States of America and Ireland be presented to the Speaker of this House as a token of the love which the Irish members of this House have for him and for the other officers and members of this House, and we sincerely hope and trust that this love will ever remain verdant, green and glorious.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, March 22d, 1916.

To the House of Assembly:

I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 10 without my approval.

There are now two methods whereby the county can force the payment of municipal taxes, namely by mandamus and indictment of the negligent officials. It seems unfair to compel the municipality to pay such a high rate of interest for nonpayment of the county tax, first, because the State is at times dilatory in paying the railroad taxes to the municipality; second, because the county cannot use the whole of the tax immediately when its fiscal year has yet months to run and the tax would be deposited in bank to the county's credit and the county will draw interest on it, and third, because the taxes to be paid include State taxes which the countv is not required to pay until January twentieth, and if the county could collect a penalty for nonpayment, it would get the penalty on the State's share of the tax.

The bill purports to be an amendment to section 41 of chapter 57 of the laws of 1909. There is no such section in that chapter. It is section 41 of chapter 208 of the laws of 1903 that should be amended.

Respectfully,
JAMES F. FIELDER,
Governor.

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of his Secretary, and was read as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, March 22d, 1916.

To the House of Assembly:

I return herewith Assembly bill number 11 without my approval.

On this bill and Assembly bills twelve to sixteen, inclusive, I gave a public hearing at which at least fifty persons were present. Twenty-five separate municipalities were represented either by their financial officers or by counsel and but one municipality favored the bills. The speakers in opposition to the bills, including a member of a noted firm of bond attorneys whose opinion has been sought by every large city in the State, all agreed that the bills contained many indefinite and contradictory clauses and that should they become laws, insuperable difficulties would be encountered in carrying them into effect and that the validity of future bond issues would be seriously impaired. The sincerity and force of their arguments convince me that the bills should lie over another year, during which period the commission recommending them will be in existence and the bills can be redrawn or corrected and the objections raised, removed. The subject is too important to justify hasty and ill-considered action. While the commission has spent ten months investigating the subject and framing its report, the bills themselves were prepared but a few weeks prior to their introduction, and the attorneys and financial representatives of the cities have had but two months to examine and confer on them and to endeavor to apply them to conditions in their communities. The bills are related to each other and it seems that all or none should pass. It is impossible for me to state the numerous objections presented to me in the three hours occupied by the hearing and to which I have attempted to give careful consideration since that time. Briefs on the bills were filed with me, which I hope will be available to you upon the consideration of this message, so that you may judge for yourselves the importance and weight of some of the objections raised before me.

Some of the specific objections to this bill are that it disregards the principles of accounting and its language is vague and imposes burdensome restrictions and places a premium on bad financing; that no budget can be prepared for 1916 because "surplus revenue" cannot be ascertained until January 1, 1917; that certain funds coming into the treasury during the year cannot be used for current needs and the municipality must, therefore, borrow from the bank until the budget is passed.

Respectfully, JAMES F. FIELDER, [SEAL.] Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, March 22d, 1916.

To the House of Assembly:

I return herewith Assembly No. 12, without my approval.

The general remarks contained in my message on Assembly bill number eleven apply to this bill.

Some of the specific objections to this bill are that section 1 contains a proviso for limiting expenditures that is not within the scope of the title of the bill; that municipalities are required to borrow against unpaid taxes within fifteen days after the close of their fiscal year, whether they need the money or not, otherwise they cannot borrow at all, and that sufficient powers are not given for borrowing in an emergency which cannot be anticipated.

TRENTON, March 22d, 1916.

To the House of Assembly:

I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 13 without my approval.

The general remarks contained in my message on Assembly bill number eleven apply to this bill.

Some of the specific objections to this bill are that the meaning of the word "revenues" in section 2 is uncertain; what "instruments of a temporary character" are; that section 3 refers to "tax revenues" whereas by section 2 the "revenues" are not so limited; that the words "live and dependable asset" as used in section 6, have no fixed or certain meaning and it was urged at the hearing that should this bill become a law no attorney would approve bonds for funding short-time indebtedness under this or any other law, because he could not be sure that such indebtedness is described in this bill.

To the House of Assembly:

I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 14 without my approval.

The general remarks contained in my message on Assembly bill number fifteen to this bill.

Some of the specific objections to this bill are that the policy of taking the control of sinking funds from the municipal authorities is bad, especially in commission governed cities, where the mayor, who is not necessarily the commissioner of finance, appoints the sinking fund commissioners and where those commissioners who are members of the city commission are subject to recall while the other sinking fund commissioners are not, and that in so far as this bill requires smaller payments to the sinking fund, than are required by the acts providing for bonds heretofore issued, this bill infringes on the contract with such bondholders and is, therefore, probably unconstitutional.

I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 15 without my approval.

The general remarks contained in my message on Assembly bill number eleven apply to this bill.

Some of the specific objections to this bill are that it does not define the items of "surplus revenue" and "miscellaneous revenue" which must be contained in the statement to be filed with the State Comptroller, and section 2 refers to country school districts as defined by chapter 36, of the laws of 1902, which law has been held unconstitutional by our courts and was repealed by chapter 1, of the Special Session Laws of 1903.

If a man is convicted of murder in the first degree, but in the opinion of the jury he should be sentenced to hard labor for life, rather than be executed, there should be no possibility of shortening the life sentence, except through the Constitutional power of the Court of Pardons.

There are two features of this bill which I do not understand. It provides "the owner or owners, lessee or lessees of property upon condition, along the line of any such sewer or having an alley leading into any street in which such sewer is laid, shall be compelled to connect their houses and other buildings therewith." I cannot interpret the words "upon condition" with the words which precede them. I do not understand the provision relating to the alley leading into the street, that is, how the owner of a building could be compelled to connect it with a sewer through an alley which he may not own.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, March 22d, 1916.

To the House of Assembly:

I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 58 without my approval.

This bill proposes that the State shall contribute the sum of $10,000, toward the erection of a monument in the city of Passaic to commemorate the retreat of Washington across New Jersey over a bridge spanning the Passaic river and to perpetuate the memory of Passaic city soldiers and sailors who served in the wars of this country. I am aware that it does not specifically appropriate the money and that the Legislature may not this year vote any appropriation for the purpose, but if it finds a place among our laws, it will next year or the year after be urged with strong reason that those interested in the monument have waited sufficiently long for the Legislature to redeem the pledge which the passage of this bill carries with it. Each year we have difficulty in finding sufficient funds for the enlargement of our State institutions, for the erection of new buildings to care for our sick, infirm, defective and criminal classes and for the ordinary purposes of government and until we are in funds for these most pressing necessities, I feel we should get along without erecting monuments. In any event, I think this bill should not pass until the money proposed to be expended is in sight, and, perhaps, too, the event and persons could be commemorated by a tablet on the bridge in question or in some other suitable, but less expensive way.

While on this subject, may I be permitted to direct your minds to the thought that the memory of famous Jerseymen and of important sites might better be perpetuated by the erection of something useful rather than by a monument which is only ornamental. A comfort station, a rest pavilion, a drinking fountain, a small playground, or a memorial bridge at this particular spot would pay the tribute to which our brave soldier and sailor dead are entitled and at the same time provide something of benefit to the living.

Respectfully,
[SEAL.] JAMES F. FIELDER,

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, March 22d, 1916.

To the House of Assembly:

I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 69 without my approval.

This is a term-extender and salary-increase bill applicable to the three members of the Steam Engineer and Boiler Operators License Bureau in the Department of Labor, but the members of the bureau are not so modest as the Commissioner of Labor, in that they desire their terms extended for life.

The act under which the members of this bureau were appointed is chapter 363, of the laws of 1913. It contemplated a distinct bureau, the members whereof should choose a chairman; adopt by-laws, rules and regulations for their government; prescribe rules for the examination and licensing of engineers and firemen; issue licenses and fix fees therefor; revoke licenses and make report from time to time to the Commissioner of Labor. That act provides that the members should be appointed for a term of three years, at a salary of twelve hundred dollars. The bureau was not organized until less than seventeen months ago, and now the members desire that the positions shall be placed in the competitive class of the classified service of the Civil Service and, of course, that they shall continue to be the members of the bureau under the protection of the Civil Service act, which means for life, or during good behavior. Not content with securing a life position, they want their salary raised about seventy per centum, that is, from twelve hundred dollars to two thousand dollars.

This is the most objectionable kind of legislation and entirely contrary to the spirit of the Civil Service act, in that it would give these men promotion to a higher salary grade without competitive examination. If these positions are worth two thousand dollars, the State does not want them filled by twelve hundred dollar men, and that is what the present incumbents are, since they were so anxious to take the positions at the present salary. If they are competent men and worth the much larger salary they should be willing to enter into competition with others for the positions, especially as they have the advantage of seventeen months of experience with the duties of the office. If the Legislature thinks that these positions should be protected by tenure of office and that the salary should be $2,000, then give the State the opportunity to secure the best men who can be attracted by these new conditions and throw the examination open to every one who might desire to enter.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,

TRENTON, March 22d, 1916.

To the House of Assembly:

I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 90 without my approval.

Pensions were originally intended for the benefit of an employee of a municipality, county or State, who was retired after long service or for disabilities incurred in the service. Police pensions were gradually extended, first to include the widow and minor children of the policeman and afterwards to include his parents. This bill proposes to extent the benefit of the pension still further and give to his sister or sisters, if dependent on him for support, one-half his salary, after his death, for her or their lives. I feel that this is stretching the pension idea much beyond its true limits and, therefore, I cannot approve this bill.

The act sought to be amended is chapter 109, of the laws of 1914. It provides that before it can be submitted to the voters, a resolution must be adopted by the governing body directing such submission. For such resolution this bill would substitute a petition signed by thirty per centum of the voters. It is quite apparent that in some city of the second class, to which this act applies, the governing body deems it unwise to adopt the necessary resolution. I feel that the initiation of the referendum should be left to the governing body; that it is its right and its duty to determine whether or not the financial condition of the city is such that the question of a general increase in pay for members of the police department should be submitted to the taxpayers and general voters and that the governing body is in a better position to act with the proper information and knowledge than thirty per centum of the voters who could be induced to sign a referendum petition.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, March 22d, 1916.

To the House of Assembly:

I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 147 without my approval.

Despite the continued cry for economy and the adoption of the small board of freeholders plan, one of the principal arguments for the enactment of which was economy, this bill proposes to increase the salary of the members of the boards of chosen freeholders in counties of the first class from fifteen hundred dollars to twenty-five hundred dollars per annum besides an additional five hundred dollars to the director of the board. The salary of the county supervisor is increased from twenty-five hundred dollars to four thousand dollars. Being confined to first class counties, Essex and Hudson are the only ones thereby affected. Both of these counties adopted the "Small Board" plan and the board, therefore, consists of nine members in each county. Eleven thousand dollars per annum would thus be the increase in salary in each county under this bill, and the total salary of the members of each board and the supervisor would be several thousand dollars more than was received by the members of the old large board.

I am opposed to all mandatory legislation of this character. Men seek office with full knowledge of the work the office involves and the salaries they are to receive therefor. The salaries consequently must be satisfactory or they would not seek appointment or election to the office. They should not expect their salaries to be increased during their term nor should the taxpayers be burdened with additional expense after their election or appointment.

Respectfully,
[SEAL.] JAMES F. FIELDER,
Governor.

The fees and expenses now allowed by law for ascertaining the owners, mortgagees and persons having a lien on property sold for taxes is now fixed at a low rate and based on the size of the property sold. This bill would make a flat rate of ten dollars no matter what the size of the plot or tract. I fear this will limit the number of purchasers at tax sales and force the municipality to buy in. It is to the interest of the municipality to get property on which owners will not pay taxes in the hands of those who will, but no one will buy at a tax sale and attempt to perfect title if the owner may step forward and redeem by paying the tax and interest and ten dollars for a title search, when the actual expense has been twenty-five dollars or more.

We now have three normal schools, two being in Essex county and one in Mercer county. The Legislature passed an act known as chapter 369 of the laws of 1912, providing for an additional normal school which directed the State Board of Education to purchase a site in one of the counties of the first class not having a normal training school. The effect of that act is to designate Hudson county, which I think perhaps unwise, since it is my opinion that the location of the school should be left to the State Board of Education without restriction. In 1913 the Legislature passed another act, known as chapter 76 of the laws of that year directing the State Board of Education to purchase a site for a normal school in one of the counties south of Mercer county. This latter act is not so restrictive as to location.

This bill provides that a normal school should be located at Elizabeth, and I consider such designation of the site improper. Before any new normal school is finally located, the State Board of Education is the most capable body to take cognizance of the subject, and after making careful investigation of the needs of the entire State, to decide on the most suitable location.

I would add that a bill was presented to the Legislature for the purchase of one of the Essex county normal schools, which although operated by the State, is owned by the city of Newark.

The bill was not passed. An appropriation has been requested of this Legislature for a South Jersey normal school, but whether or not that request will be granted, I do not know.

It is bad legislation to say that on municipal bonds hereafter issued the municipality may fix such rate of interest, not exceeding six per cent., as it may determine, any special or general law to the contrary. Where the rate of interest has been expressly fixed by a statute and it is desired to increase that rate, the statute in question should be amended. This bill would apply to laws that may be enacted next year authorizing bond issues, although by such future legislation the rate of interest may be specifically fixed.

Chapter 197 of the laws of 1912 provides for the construction and erection of booths for exhibiting moving pictures. This act was very carefully prepared and considered. It provides for a standard of dimensions, framework, fireproofing, doors, windows and ventilation, for the protection of both operators of moving picture machines, as well as the people attending exhibitions, from the dangers of explosion and fire. This bill seeks to modify these standards and to permit the erection of portable booths for exhibitions in halls and buildings to be used or permitted for entertainments lasting three nights in succession.

The risk and danger of fire and explosion of the highly combustible films used in moving picture machines, is present at all times and the protective standards of the present law should not be weakened for booths used in exhibition of moving pictures even though for a limited number of nights.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, March 22d, 1916.

To the House of Assembly:

I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 343 without my approval.

This bill makes important changes in our excellent primary and election law, which, in my judgment, tend to weaken it and, therefore, I am strongly opposed to the bill. You have passed a resolution providing for the appointment of a commission to revise and codify the election laws and, therefore, I consider it improper to attempt any change at this time. In the few days given me, I am unable to ascertain whether or not all amendments, necessary to accomplish your desire, have been made in all primary and election laws, so as to avoid conflicting provisions and this is an additional reason why the whole subject should be left to the commission.

Two material changes proposed by this bill are to make the requirement for personal registration apply to municipalities of ten thousand instead of five thousand and to permit a voter, when registering, to state his age as "over twenty-one," instead of his true age.

The personal registry requirement of the present law is one of its best features and is the greatest bar to fraudulent registration and voting. In municipalities where personal registration is necessary, the county clerk is required to prepare printed copies of the registry list, of which any voter can secure one. The printed lists must be posted by the election boards and the chief of police of each municipality is required to investigate the name of each person on the list and report the result to the County Board of Elections, which board may use the result of such investigation in revising the registry. The change you now propose will eliminate all these safeguards for honest elections in at least twenty-seven municipalities which now have the benefit of them.

The provision that a voter shall state his age when registering is for identification purposes and forms part of a plan designed to protect the honest voter against another voting on his name. There cannot be a sufficient number of men in this State so averse to stating their age as to make it wise to deprive others of their protection. To such as are sensitive about their age I would suggest that there is nothing in the present law providing a penalty for the stating age incorrectly. Many men appear older or younger than their years and all that the election officers can decide is that the voter looks to be about the age stated. A man of fifty may state his age as forty-five and on election day, should he be required to answer the identification questions, he need only remember the age he gave on registry day. Should someone else appear to vote on his name and state his age as thirty, the election officers would immediately have their suspicions aroused and the answers of such proposed voter to the other questions, as, for instance, the length of residence by years in the State, would help confirm their suspicions that they had a fraudulent voter before them. May I ask how the proposed change will help the man who has lived in the State all his life, since he is expected to state the number of years he has resided here?

I direct your attention to a change made in section 2, line 12. I do not know whether this is intentional or not, but if intentional, I object to it. Under the present law the names of those appearing on the poll book as having voted at the last general election, are placed on the primary registry list for the ensuing primary. In the line to which I refer, the word "general" is omitted and the result will be that those whose names appear on the poll book of the preceding election, whether general or special, are carried forward to the next registry list. If the preceding election be a special one, many voters who usually fail to vote at special elections, will not have their names carried to the primary registry list.

I direct your attention also to section ten, lines 20 and 21. You propose to enable the voter to indicate his choice of candidate, by either a cross X or plus + mark, but in the lines to which I refer, providing that the voter may write or paste a name on the ballot, you provide only for a cross X mark opposite the name so written or pasted. There is no reason why the voter should not be permitted to use a plus + mark here and to omit to provide for it will lead to difficulties over marked ballots.

I direct your attention also to the title of the bill, which recites the original act as having been approved in 1998 instead of 1898.

Governor.

This bill provides for three sessions per week for evening schools, instead of four sessions as the law now in force requires. The term under the present law is four months and the proposed bill provides for sixty-four sessions, so that the term would be extended to five months. The night schools have been successful as operated under the present law and the prolonging of the term a month might be detrimental. The great majority of those attending night schools are engaged in employment during the day and it undoubtedly is a hardship to them to attend sessions of school in the evenings. The attendance falls off considerably toward the end of the term, and the prospect of enrolling for five instead of four months might have the effect of discouraging applicants for admission.

The object of this bill is to take an elevator operator at one thousand dollars a year and transform him into a court attendant at twelve hundred and fifty dollars a year, which means promotion without Civil Service examination. It would also legalize the position of some man who might be "operating" an elevator without appointment according to law. It seems to me absurd to attempt to make a distinction in favor of a man who runs an elevator which carries prisoners, as against a man who runs an elevator used by the judges, county officials and the general public in the court house.

The law now provides that townships having a population of more than eight thousand shall be divided into three wards, each represented by two members and that one member of the township committee shall be elected at large. The township committee of townships below that population consists of three members.

It is apparent that the intention of the Legislature was that townships with a large population and probably covering a greater territory should have its various sections represented in the committee, thereby making a larger committee necessary. Should this bill become a law, it would give some townships over eight thousand population the right to have their old form of government by three committeemen, while others would have the larger number and this would create an anomalous condition among the townships of that class. If the question of the adoption of a larger committee form of government is to be submitted to the voters, it should be at a special rather than a general election, because should the act be accepted at the next general election, the township cannot elect the increased number of committeemen until the following general election, and thus the adoption of the act would be postponed another year.

This bill would open the way to great abuse in deer hunting. It would make it lawful for a gunner to take a dog on leash into the woods, an exceedingly dangerous proceeding, in that the hunter in endeavoring to restrain a large deer hound with one hand while carrying a loaded and cocked gun in the other, may very easily, through accident, shoot another hunter.

The law against hunting deer with dogs may easily be violated under this bill. When a deer is pursued, he naturally takes refuge in the deep woods, and hunters, with dogs on leash, could pursue him into the thicket, from which the baying of the dogs would frighten and drive the deer into the open, where he would offer a ready target for other men waiting for him.

The real object of this bill seems to be to permit the hunting of deer with dogs, and this, of course, would lead to the speedy extermination of the deer.
